Luke Nguyen

I am a great believer that there is nothing more human than gathering loved ones to share a meal. In Australia, the quality and richness of our food culture enables us to produce fresh and innovative flavours that are the envy of the world, and Brisbane is very much experiencing a dynamic restaurant revolution that makes it one of the most exciting and delicious places to be at this particular time.

When we opened Fat Noodle at Treasury Casino in 2012, late-night, high-quality casual dining was a relatively fresh concept on the scene. A few short years on and we've not only seen countless outstanding new restaurant openings and the arrival of many well-known brands, but entire new dining precincts. High quality no longer means fine dining and hefty prices. Today's diners are eager, informed and hungry for new experiences, meaning that our chefs are better positioned to explore and play in the kitchen.

It is this spirit of adventure and experimentation that forms the ethos of Executive Chef Steven Jones' vision for the iconic Treasury Casino & Hotel, and with 10 restaurants and bars across the property, there are certainly many wonders to discover.

Happy adventuring!

Luke Nguyen

WELCOME FROM EXECUTIVE CHEF

Steven Jones

My role within the culinary ecosystem here at Treasury is by and large curatorial; developing and maintaining a balance of dining options to suit every taste and budget. I'm delighted to share our latest offerings with you with our Dining Guide.

In the current climate of constantly morphing food trends and competitive offerings, we pride ourselves on giving guests the freedom of choice, spanning high quality fast-casual fare at BITE to premium modern fusion dining at The Lab Restaurant and Bar. Achieving this breadth of variety is no small feat and I am incredibly proud of the 100-plus team of chefs who work around-the-clock to deliver the level of quality and service that has become a hallmark of the Treasury brand over the past 21 years.

Our expert team hails from across the globe and I speak truthfully when I say we have some of the best of the best in our kitchens; a hand-selected group of spirited and inventive culinary masters whose diverse backgrounds enable us to constantly refresh and reinvent our offering on a seasonal basis.

As always, it is you, our treasured guests, who are vital in determining what ends up on our menus. As such, I implore you to share with us your experiences using the #TasteofTreasury tag on Instagram.

On behalf of the entire culinary team, I thank you for being our guest and look forward to welcoming you into one of our restaurants or bars in the near future.

Best wishes,
Steven Jones
